

MATT

Where have you been?

SEAN

Late surgery. How was your day, Matt?

MATT

Shitty.

SEAN

You wanna talk about it?

MATT

I tried calling you earlier, but the office said you were gone. You didn't answer your cell phone either.

SEAN

Well...i'm here now. What's on your mind?

MATT

How come you never raised Annie and me with any religious background?

SEAN

Uh...your mother and I thought you should make your own decisions about faith... when you're ready.

MATT

But... do you believe in god at all? Like if...we hurt someone And don't take responsibility, he knows about it. Because if that's true...we can't really get away with anything, can we?

SEAN

What are you gettin' at, matt?

MATT

I'm sayin'...you can lie to yourself, your friends, your family... but you can't lie to god. So the only thing to do...is confess. Right?

SEAN

How did you find out? When you opened the door and saw us together?

MATT

Uh...what did i see?

SEAN

Stop the games, matt. I'm telling you man-to-man, yes, i'm having an affair. I'm gonna end it. I just...needed something...and she gave it to me.

MATT

How could you cheat on mom? Your dad left you guys for another woman. You--You told me that. You've been telling me that story since i was a little kid about how that hurt you so much.

SEAN

I'm not my father. I'm not! Listen to me, matt. Nothing in your life is gonna be disrupted.

MATT

You cheated on mom? I don't know you right now.

SEAN

I won't see her again. You're more important to me. This family is more important to me. We won't tell your mom, And this will all go away. I promise. I promise.
