

TONY

I came here today to tell you in all seriousness that I'm done. I did what you said. I gave it a lot of thought and I decided that once and for all it's over. The truth is this therapy is a jerk off. You know it and I know it.

DR. MELFI

I actually don't know it. But please continue

TONY

It's a jerk off.

DR MELFI

Yes You've said that.

TONY

Anyways I was coming here to quit. I had it all planned out. But guess what? My son is talking suicide so now i'm trapped here forever.

DR MELFI

My god. What did he say?

TONY

His girlfriend.. finance.. whatever. She broke up with him. He's beyond devastated.

DR MELFI

Would you like me to recommend someone for him to talk to?

TONY

Carmella's getting a referral from his old paediatrician.

DR MELFI

Oh

TONY

After that incompetent you sent Meadow to? So I suppose here comes the inherent fucking grilling about how i feel about all this.

DR MELFI

Isn't this why you're here

TONY

You know friends of mine, they have sons his age. They're happy, ambitious. They fucking take life as it comes.

DR MELFI

I know it seems that way but do you really know these boys.

TONY

I know what I see: My son crawled up on the couch in the fetus position when he should be out banging co-eds.

DR MELFI

Have you talked to him?

TONY

Till i'm blue in the face. We both have. And now we're afraid to talk to him because of what he might do. Obviously I'm prone to depression. Certain bleak attitude about the world. But i know i can handle it.. Your kids though.. it's like when they're little and they're sick. You'd give anything in the world to change places with them so they don't have to suffer. and then to think you're the cause of it.

DR MELFI

How are you the cause of it?

TONY

It's in his blood. This miserable fucking existence. My rotten fucking putrid genes have infected my kid's soul. That's my gift to my son.

DR MELFI

I know this is difficult but I'm very glad we are having this conversation.

TONY

Really? Really? Cause I'm gonna be honest. I think it fucking sucks.

DR MELFI

What does?

TONY

Therapy. This. I hate this fucking shit.

Seriously. We're both adults here right. So after all the shedding done. After all the complaining and the crying and all the fucking bullshit. Is this all there is?
