

ALAN - Only thing in the system is the deed to his family's land and the cabin on it. Point being, this is a man who is, you know, hiding from the world.

FRANK - Maybe he just doesn't like it.

ALAN - What's he gonna say when you show up? Is he gonna welcome you with open arms? Just write the address down. Put it on a piece of paper. Put it on the dash. - I'm coming with you.

FRANK - You can forget about it. No, no, no, no. Forget about it.

ALAN - That's bullshit.

FRANK - Forget about it. No way!

ALAN - You know what? You're just pissed off about the other night because deep down

FRANK - No!

ALAN - Deep down, you know that I'm right. You can't agree to work with someone and then cut them out.

FRANK - Okay. I want you to listen carefully. This guy, he is no joke.

ALAN - Okay.

FRANK - Look, if he doesn't want us there, I do not have time to look after you.

ALAN - You won't even know I'm there. I'll help with the driving. Get you there all, you know, bright-eyed and bushy-tailed.
