

ERIC

You just can't stop yourself from lying, can you?

NICK

I didn't lie. Agent Romanoff had a different mission than yours.

ERIC

Which you didn't feel obliged to share.

NICK

I'm not obliged to do anything.

ERIC

Those hostages could have died, Nick.

NICK

I sent the greatest soldier in history to make sure that didn't happen.

ERIC

Soldiers trust each other. That's what makes it an army. Not a bunch of guys running around shooting guns.

NICK

Last time I trusted someone, I lost an eye. Look, I didn't want you doing anything you weren't comfortable with. Agent Romanoff is comfortable with everything.

ERIC

I can't lead a mission when the people I'm leading have missions of their own.

NICK

It's called compartmentalization.

ERIC

Nobody spills the secrets, because nobody knows them all. Except you.

NICK

You're wrong about me. I do share. I'm nice like that.
