

MILES

Mr. Bossman, there's another pattern of withdrawals that start low and multiply in regular intervals -

BOSSMAN

Not today Bernstein, Jesus Christ, not today not today NOT TODAY!!!!

MILES (CONT'D)

Which accounts for the leak in the expenses and all tracks to one off shore account which I took the liberty of hacking and reversing the deposits.

BOSSMAN (CONT'D)

WHAT?? YOU DID WHAT??

Bossman discretely hangs up the phone.

MILES

Offshore accounts... Hacking... Reversing the deposits.... Which part?

BOSSMAN

You hacked that offshore account?

MILES

Yeah -- I mean that wasn't that time consuming. Oh and I went ahead and put it back for you.

BOSSMAN

So you-- You don't-- You put it back??

Bossman stares at him in rising anger.

MILES

Yup. Problem: solved. Case: closed. I'll invoice you my fee. Just kidding, of course. About the fee.

BOSSMAN

I'm not sure if you know who owns this joint. — —

MILES

I've literally never met them.

BOSSMAN

You're fired. And I would think twice about telling anyone about what you saw -- if you like breathing.

Miles, dumbfounded.
