

AMANDA - Hi.

FAITH - I'm so sorry. It's rude, but I was famished. Thank you for meeting me. Let me get you a menu.

AMANDA - Uh, no, thank you. I have a lunch right after this.

FAITH - Good. You should always have one on the books.

AMANDA - Miss Davis?

FAITH - You're worried about Aidan. Do you call him anything for short?

AMANDA - Why would you ask me that?

FAITH - I don't know if the president, or vice president, has informed you, but Mac is fine. It's what he knows is the problem, and who he may have told it to.

AMANDA - He wants to stay alive.

FAITH - Yes. But those are the ones you have to watch out for.

AMANDA - Last I spoke to Aidan was minutes before he got in a cab. I don't know what he has or what he's done. I only do what I'm told.

FAITH - I'm in the Hoover Building. It's the ugliest building in in the city. I close my eyes as I walk in. Stop by any time. Especially if you're in the mood to talk. We could use someone who says as little as you do.
