

ALVEY - Hey.

JANET - Lisa's not here, is she? Her space was empty.

ALVEY - No, no, she's out. You want to, uh You want to go in my office?

JANET - Uh, you know, I just I think I'd rather just talk outside.

ALVEY - You want to sit down? It's actually not as bad as it looks.

JANET - Yeah, uh, no. I'm I'm not gonna be here long.

ALVEY - You come to put a bullet in my head?

JANET - Pretty much.

ALVEY - Fuck.

JANET - Yeah. I've been saying that all week.

ALVEY - Look, I know this is complicated. I do. Shit's gonna settle down.

JANET - Alvey.

ALVEY - What?

JANET - I'm done.

ALVEY - I'm not.

JANET - You know what? Sometimes you just you got to admit defeat.

ALVEY - Look, you make me happy, okay? You're You're the only thing I look forward to.

JANET - Well, that's not good. Y-You know, you hardly even know me, and the more I know about you it's just one thing after another, and it's just it just fucking should not be this hard.

ALVEY - What does that mean? What, so you just quit?

JANET - Yeah. I'm not gonna beat my head against a wall for you.

ALVEY - Why?

JANET - There's a reason that your life is like this, and it's too much for me.

ALVEY - That's it?

JANET - That's it. And please don't call me.

ALVEY - Okay.
