

DARLENE

What deals did you just make behind my back?

JACOB

Only the ones to protect your life.

DARLENE

I've been doing just fine with that on my own.

JACOB

Yes, well..

[grunts]

I think my right arm might beg to differ.

DARLENE

I told you, God has bigger plans.

JACOB

We're beat, Darlene.

We were beat

the second we flooded that land.

Land now owned by US government.

DARLENE

The second you flooded that land.
I told you, we should never have shaken hands with those Mexicans.

JACOB

And you were right.
You were right.
But, right now,
they don't need us alive for their casino.
So the only thing keeping us that way
is my promise that we'll stand down.

DARLENE

Until no one's looking,
then they'll go ahead and kill us anyway.

JACOB

No, Darlene.

DARLENE

They just wanna keep us
smiling and happy and stupid until their casino comes through.

JACOB

You don't know that.

DARLENE

It's what I'd do.

They'll want one of our heads
as a price for those poisoned drugs
and you know it.

Is that why you met with them alone?

JACOB

I met with them alone
because the last time you undermined me,
it nearly got me killed.

DARLENE

Just like you killed Ash.

JACOB

Your temper killed Ash.
It's like it's killing everything we spent our lives working for.
But I swear, Darlene, if you ever even think to undermine me again...

DARLENE

What?

Tell me, Jacob.

What the fuck happens if I undermine you?

JACOB

Don't push me, Darlene.
It will not end well for you.
