OFF. TERRY JONES

SC. 11 DAY INT. EVIDENCE COUNTER

VINCE walks to the evidence ward of the building. A young police officer, TERRY JONES (early 20's) is sitting behind the counter writing a report of some sort. He is very focused. VINCE gets to the counter but TERRY doesn't see him.

VINCE

Huhum.

The young officer looks up and jumps off his seat, almost falling to the ground.

TERRY

Det...detective MCKINLEY.

VINCE

Hi.

TERRY

Hi...(beat)(shakes hands using both hands)It's an honour to finally meet you Sir.

VINCE

Yeah thanks. I need to see the visitation reports for the last 8 months.

TERRY

Sure detective. Right away Sir.

TERRY looks in a locked drawer and pulls out a bunch of papers and files. He piles them up on the counter and goes back to the drawer. He comes back to the counter with the last files and smiles at VINCE.

VINCE

...That's it?...

TERRY

Humm...I think so. It's hard to keep track. Mr. WATERMAN was not the most organized man.

VINCE

Who?

TERRY

LARRY WATERMAN. He was here before me.

VINCE

Oh ok. Thank you ... what's your name?

TERRY

Jones Sir. Terry Jones.

OFFICER JONES is very excited

VINCE

Great. Well, thank you Terry. It was nice to meet you.

VINCE walks away with the gigantic pile of files.

TERRY (SHOUTS)

You too Sir...Thank you Sir.
